

2008 ACE Award Winner

And the ACE Award goes to....Hyder Construction! AGC of Colorado held its annual ACE Award's Presentation on November 21st. The event, held at the Hyatt at the Convention Center, is to recognize the top construction projects of the past year. Hyder Construction took home the ACE award for Project of the Year-General Contractor Over $60 Million for Vail's Front Door.

Projects were judged by members of the A/E/C community on efficient execution, complexity of construction, innovative solutions, safety and its impact on the community. The project team did an outstanding job and deserved recognition for their best in class efforts. Hyder Construction was thrilled to receive this honor and to be acknowledged as a company by such a prestigious award.
