

Two more Hyder employees receive LEED accreditation

June 17, 2008

Denver-based Hyder Construction recently announced that project manager Brad Bakel and estimator Dean Nickell have received LEED accreditation. Hyder Construction currently has six LEED accredited employees. Hyder also announced the completion of its new website design. The new site can be viewed at www.hyderinc.com